

'WE ARE GOING TO END IT' SAYS BRIAND ENROUTE TO COUNCIL MEET

But General Feeling Is That France Will Not Have Her Military Ambitions Realized

MILITARY CHIEFS ATTENDING

Paris April 29.—"At last we are going to end it," Premier Briand of France declared as he boarded the train here today for the meeting of the Supreme Council at London. Briand was accompanied by several military leaders including Marshal Foch, Weygand and General Berthelot. The fact that Briand was accompanied by the military leaders was significant.

The military leaders carried leather cases which were believed to contain plans for the advance into the Ruhr or perhaps penetrate farther into Germany even as far as Berlin itself.

London, April 28.—Regardless of the Allied action on the German reparations proposal an invasion of the Ruhr probably will be delayed until May 15, it was learned today.

FATAL PISTOL SHOTS IS ANSWER TO WEST CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF'S QUERY

Chicago, April 29.—George Rehm, Chief of Police of West Chicago, was shot and killed by an unidentified man early today and James Schners, the chief's companion, was seriously wounded. Rehm and Schners had just directed two women in an automobile how to get to St. Charles, Illinois, and crossed the street meeting a stranger. "Where are you going," the Chief asked. Several revolver shots were the answer.

FOUR HUNDRED STEAMER PASSENGERS IN DANGER WHEN BOAT RUNS INTO ISLAND

Boston, April 29.—400 persons were imperiled today when the steamer Mormugao bound from the Azores to New Bedford, ran into the southwest tip of Block Island, according to a wireless message received here. A heavy sea and a dense fog was responsible. Two tugs were sent to the rescue.

MUST BE TWENTY PER CENT. REDUCTION IN OPERATING EXPENSES OF RAILROADS

Chicago, April 29.—A 20 per cent reduction in operating expenses is necessary to put the American railroads "on their feet and make possible a substantial reduction in freight and passenger rates," Samuel Dunn, editor of the Railway Age and an advisor of the Association of Railroad Executives, made made this statement to the United Press today.

Dunn characterizes the charge of W. J. Lauck, economist of American Federation of Labor that the railroads are wasting a billion dollars a year by mismanagement as "pure propaganda to discredit private management and boost the Plumb plan. There should be a reduction in operating expenses of 20 per cent of $1,200,000,000 a year," declared Dunn.

PHILIPSBURG FANS GETTING IN LINE

At the meeting of citizens interested in organizing a baseball club to represent Philipsburg in contests with teams in other towns in this region, held in the Moshannon National Bank building. Tuesday night, much enthusiasm was manifested, though the attendance was not large as was expected. It is always difficult, however, to get most people interested in organization meetings, and it does not follow there is lack of public interest.

Those present organized the Philipsburg Baseball Association by the election of the following officers and committees:

Harry Todd, President.
M. Ward Fleming, Vice President.
J. L. Adams, Secretary.
Rembrandt Dunsmore, Treasurer.
Executive Committee—Lawshoe Baird, Charles Freeman, Jos Barnes, Myers, H. B. Scott.

Ways and Means—Roy Hagyard, James Hugg, Charles Freeman, Bud Myers, Ed. Jones.

Another meeting will be held in bank building on Friday night at 8:30 when the two committees will make a report. Everybody interested in a ball club for Philipsburg is earnestly requested to be present at the Friday night meeting.

KILLED IN LINE OF DUTY

Sixty-five policemen have been killed by criminals in 25 American cities during the past 12 months.—News Item.

RAIN INTERFERED WITH CLEAN UP OF CLEARFIELD BORO

Old Jupiter Pluvius, the historic gentleman who is in charge of Nature's "water wagon," looketh not with favor upon village clean-ups generally, and Clearfield's polishing up specifically, has decreed that the advertised cleaning up of Old Town shall not take place today, as was generally intended by the Board of Health and other civic organizations.

Therefore the clean-up will be postponed until the first of the week. Just as soon as the weather warrants it the fleet of trucks arranged for by the committee of the Clearfield Commercial Club, will be on hand to haul rubbish away from town to the dump.

Do your cleaning up in the meantime, and thus be ready when the trucks call.

HOLMES—WILLIAMS

William B. Holmes, Jr., the transfer man, pulled one over on his friends this week by shipping over to Hollidaysburg and getting married. Bill had been a little more quiet and subdued the past few weeks than heretofore, but none of his intimate friends suspected the reason until Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Holmes, Jr., arrived home yesterday.

The bride is Mrs. Rose Williams, a native Clearfield resident, who has been residing in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the past year or more.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harter of the Hollidaysburg Methodist Episcopal church, in the presence of near relatives of the contracting parties.

The groom is one of Clearfield's successful young business men, deserving of every success in life. His bride is also well and favorably known in Clearfield and The Progress joins with their many friends in heartiest congratulations.

MRS. ADELIA MORGRET

Mrs. Adelia Morgret died at the Clearfield Hospital at six o'clock this morning, of pneumonia, aged about 32 years. She is survived by her husband, Dayton W. Morgret, and three small daughters, Helen, Lena and Thelma, all of this place. She is also survived by her aged mother, Mrs. M. E. Owens, of Plymptonville, and by the following brothers and sisters: Wilson J. Owens, Wilbert H. Owens, and Mrs. Robert Morrison, of Lorain, Ohio; J. C. Owens, of Philadelphia; Joseph S. Owens, of Bigler; Mrs. Mary Cowden, Mrs. Hudson Graffius, Mrs. Mansfield F. Graham, Mrs. Walter Knepp and Mrs. Edward Young, all of Clearfield.

Her remains will be brought to the home of her niece, Mrs. A. C. Tubbs, of 482 North Street, East Clearfield. Funeral announcement later.

HERBERT CALDWELL N. Y. C. CONDUCTOR KILLED THIS A. M.

Herbert I. Caldwell, of Jersey Shore, a very well known New York Central Railroad conductor, and a former resident of Clearfield, fell from a box car near Mill Hill this morning, and died about 10:20 o'clock of a broken neck and fractured skull.

"Dad" Caldwell, as he was known all over the Pennsylvania Division, was about 58 years of age and had been with the New York Central for many years. He was a fine man, popular with his fellow employees, and enjoyed the respect and of a particularly wide circle of friends.

He is survived by his widow and two sons, Samuel, of Clearfield, and Gordon, of Jersey Shore. He is also survived by two brothers and two sisters, viz: Charles and Ralph Caldwell, of Windber; Mrs. Florence E. Markle, of Osceola, and Mrs. J. B. Douglass, of Altoona.

BASEBALL SEASON FOR HIGH SCHOOL OPENS TOMORROW

Tomorrow afternoon the local baseball season will be opened, when the Clearfield High School nine will make its initial bow, meeting the veteran Patton High Scholastic Stars, at the Driving Park.

Although the local boys have been working hard at the national pastime for the past month, the development of the ball squad has been slow and uphill work, as every man had to be tutored individually, in order to determine the position the numerous candidates best fitted, and then just as Coach Heisey would get a likely looking combination together, including ruling, sickness, etc., would break up the Varsity line-up, and the Albright mentor would have to shift the players again.

At present Neff, the Red and Black's basket ball shark and Varsity first baseman, is in Philadelphia, and Coach Heisey is also away with the Relay Team at Penn. Neff's loss will be keenly felt while the Coach's absence during a game is quite a set-back, for Coach Heisey is the only person that trained C. H. S. baseballers and knows the personnel of the squad, and should be present to direct the play from the bench.

But with "Blondy Bowes" twirling, and backed up by a willing bunch of youngsters, the local students should give the strong Patton sluggers an interesting session. Patton has always had a fast, hard-hitting ball club, and as the "pros" are usually developed during their school career, the Cambria county lads are sure to have an all-star line-up when they trot out on the local diamond.

Umpire Linsenshiger will call the game promptly at 3 o'clock, and a large crowd should be on hand to see Clearfield High's first ball game in years.

HUGHES MAY PUT INTO ACTION POLICY OF UNITED STATES ON REPARATION TODAY

By A. L. Bradford

Washington, April 29.—Secretary of State Hughes today put into execution a course which he is understood to have decided tentatively upon for the United States to follow in the reparations crisis. Despite the secret being observed the possible course Hughes may take has become very well defined in the minds of observers here.

He will try to persuade France against the proposed occupation of the Ruhr with the implying threat that the American Forces on the Rhine would be withdrawn if the French army advanced.

Other courses that this government may take are: First, a note to the principal Allies concerned in the reparations question urging that aside from the acceptability of the new German proposals a direct offer to negotiate be opened at once and every effort be made to settle the reparations problem.

Second, immediate resumption of the reparations problem in the Allied Supreme Council in which it is contended that the United States still has a right to sit so that America will have a voice in the session of the council beginning tomorrow in London.

Third, an aloof attitude by this government in which no action of any kind would be taken. In this case the State Department would assume the attitude of merely an observer.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS OURWENSVILLE

The musicale held in the M. E. church Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Teen Department of that Sabbath School, was a pronounced success in every particular. A large crowd of music loving people were in attendance and came away highly pleased with their entertainment.

An electric supply store has been opened up in the Teats rooms, Irwin block. The window displays are attractive and show a lot of useful household articles.

A number of Old Fellows residing here received an invitation to unite with the Clearfield Lodge and attend divine worship, Sunday evening at St. John's Lutheran church, Clearfield. Edwin C. Cook, grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania will preach the sermon.

The regular monthly Mothers' meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this evening, April 29th, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Dunsmore, at which time a 15 cent lunch will be served. A good attendance is requested.

All lovers of base ball who wish to learn the scores of the major league games can see them posted each evening in a window of Leih's drug store. The games are taken by wireless, hence you can read the results before next day at noon.

Mike Kelly has had painters at his home most of the week freshening up the interior and exterior as well.

Ourwensville now presents a much more cleanly appearance than a week ago. This week people hustled into piles dirt, tin cans, etc., and the horse wagon made the rounds and hauled it away to a dumping ground. As many shade trees have died in the past few years and been removed, would it not be a good idea for property owners, where trees are gone, to replant. It would only be a few years until the young trees would throw enough shade round and about for all purposes.

The Ourwensville letter man to the Progress will have to ask the indulgence of readers, owing to the fact that he has been unable to wander from the house for several days.

Mildred, Smoked Long Ago. Smoking money when started when Sir Walter Raleigh offered the "divine weed" to Queen Elizabeth, but he almost paid the penalty with his life. So very sick did the few whiffs of tobacco make the royal lady that courtiers whispered Master Raleigh had poisoned her, and dark looks were his portion. Her highness recovered, however, and took a truly Elizabethan revenge by making the courtiers of Nottingham and all her maids smoke out a whole pipe among them.

"By Skinny"

The following letter was recently received from an old time Clearfielder, who desired to add his word of praise to the memory of the late Harvey Ale:

Osceola Mills, Pa. April 24, 1921.

Dear Skinny:—

I see in The Progress to-day notice of the death of one of my old neighbor boy friends, in the person of Harvey Ale. I often wondered where he was located. Harvey Ale was an exemplary young man; always liked to have fun and a good time, but would never join with us "rough necks" when we went out throwing corn and cabbages. He was generally at home reading while we were tormenting Charley Dousell or "Aunt Cassy."

I often think of the Old Town and the friends of long ago. By the way, there is another of those old boyhood friends over there now (we were all three raised on Locust street) that I haven't seen since in the "eighties," my good friend, J. Frank Snyder. Have to come over and look him up soon.

Say, why don't you continue that old band history. See George Gulich. He can start in where you left off.

Yours truly,
H. C. LARRIMER.
(McCreery)

A Pittsburgh man went up to Ridgway about five years ago and married one of the Elk county capital's fair beauties. She was such a stunner she stunned the Pittsburgher completely. The poor boob awakened up in Mercy Hospital Wednesday and not only did not remember ever having been married, but didn't even know his own wife. He was gallant enough to tell her she was a peacherino when the nurse introduced the wife.

OH, YOU OLD BOY!

Every year he gets a little grayer than he was before; Every year he has to lengthen out his belt a little more; But there's one change that Time never has been able yet to work;

When a pretty woman eyes him he is right there with the smirk.

At the New York City Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday last, President Darwin C. Kingsley in the course of a testimonial to Charles M. Schwab, made the following statement:

"Germany offered Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, a one hundred million dollar bribe if he would break his war contracts with Lor-Kitchener. England learned of this and countered with an offer of $150,000,000. Mr. Schwab laughed and said the two countries had no enough money to make him break with Kitchener."

Detailing how Schwab, a great executive, a man who could do things, was sought by England to "do the impossible" in construction of submarines. Kingsley said that after Schwab had demonstrated he could build submarines in five months when it previously had required 17 months, Germany sought to "buy him."

The number of rabbits killed by hunters in Pennsylvania during the hunting season of 1920, is estimated by the State Game Commission on the basis of reports received from hunters, at 3,500,000. Reports actually received showed 278,982 rabbits and 3,965 hares killed, but these represented only a small percentage of the hunters.

The number of squirrels killed is estimated at 750,000. This is based on reports from 7.7 per cent of licensed hunters who reported 64,419 squirrels killed. On this same basis estimates of the number of other game killed included: Grouse, 425,000; blackbirds, 175,000; Weasels, 53,873; quail, 48,525; wild geese and ducks, 24,000; ring neck pheasants, 23,000; raccoons, 31,000; shorebirds, 32,000.

The hunters reported 1,163 deer and 116 bear killed while the actual number shot, the commission's records show, was 3,300 deer and 420 bear.

Oil and Literature.
We venture to say that the struggle for iron and oil will produce no such romantic recitals as Stewart Edward White's "Gold," nor such vivid California stories as those of Bret Harte, nor the Alaskan adventure tales of Rex Beach and Jack London. But it is even too early for prophecy—it remains to be seen if oil and literature can mix.—Christian Science Monitor.

The House of Representatives at Harrisburg passed the "full crew repeal" law yesterday and as the measure had already passed the senate all that remains to have the law repealed is for Governor Sprout to sign the bill.

TAXATION IN THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM
That the Republican party made no campaign pledge of any reduction of taxes is asserted by the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued today through the President of that organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. The statement says:

"A prominent Democratic organ remarks with an attempt at factiousness that the Republican national administration will talk about reducing taxes but will accomplish nothing soon in that direction. That paper also intimates that the Republicans promised reduction of taxes. As a matter of fact neither party pledged tax reductions. In the Republican Platform adopted at Chicago the section relating to taxation began as follows:

"The burden of taxation imposed upon the American people is staggering; but in presenting a true statement of the situation we must face the fact that, while the character of the taxes can and should be changed, an early reduction of the amount of revenue to be raised is not to be expected. The next Republican administration will inherit from its Democratic predecessor a floating indebtedness of over three billion dollars, the prompt liquidation of which is demanded by sound financial considerations.

"The platform also set forth that in addition to the floating indebtedness of three billions, there is an early maturing bond indebtedness of five billions. As everyone knows, the annual interest burden at the present time is practically equal to the entire government expenditures for all purposes prior to the war. The Republican party dealt frankly and honestly with the voters of the country by expressly asserting that there is no hope of early reduction of taxes. The Democratic platform was not quite so frank, for, although not promising reduction, the Democrats did not admit the impossibility of reduction. They hoped to gain a few votes by leaving the inference that they might reduce the tax burden.

"As to the nature of the changes in taxation, the two parties were in accord. The Republicans promised 'tax laws which do not for tax laws which do, excessively mulct the consumer or needlessly repress enterprise and thrift.' This was aimed at the excess profits tax which has discouraged enterprise and is charged with increasing prices to the extent of 23 per cent. The Democratic platform pledged a revision of the tax laws 'to fit peace conditions so that the wealth of the nation may not be withdrawn from productive enterprise and diverted to wasteful or non-productive expenditure.' This was apparently a pledge to repeal the excess profits tax for that is the tax which has been charged with withdrawing money from productive enterprise.

"As indicated by President Harding in his address to Congress, it is the desire of Republicans to reduce the tax burden if possible, and their efforts will be bent in that direction, but it should be distinctly understood that there was no campaign or pre-election promise that such a result would be attained.

"Any attempt of the Democrats at this stage of developments to create the impression that Republicans are guilty of breaking promises if they fail to reduce tax burdens, is dishonest. The Republicans openly declared in their platform that they had no hope of reducing the amount of the burden in the near future. They did promise to substitute a better form of tax—one that would not repress enterprise or needlessly slymulct the consumer. This pledge they will keep."

Mongolians Are American-Like.
There are a great many points of resemblance between the Mongolian and the American Indian. They extend to personal and even religious observances, notwithstanding the fact that the Mongols have long been converted to Lamalism, one of the most exacting and intolerant of religions.

Look at Things Calmly.
Much depends on personal attitude. One who is antagonistic to or prejudiced against a thing fails to get what good there may be in it. One who is in a "receptive mood" generally obtains the most benefit. Men cheat themselves oftener than they are cheated by others.

Best Grades Really Cheapest.
The purchase of a cheap grade of goods for any serious use, is very poor economy. Such goods soon give way, and the service they render, while they do last, is not satisfactory. To obtain a given amount of service one will spend more money on articles of cheap grade than upon those that are better. The obtaining of the same amount of pleasure and satisfaction from the use of a cheap thing and a good one is an impossibility.

Getting It Over.
Strange as it may sound, a man can always make a bit with a woman by saying he misses her.—Cartoons Magazine.

IN SPEAKING OF HIS WILL

A prominent business man said: "It is only planning my business further ahead. I make my contracts for material and deliveries months in advance, so why shouldn't I plan ahead for the handling of my business and property in case I should become incapacitated or die?"

Would it not be wise for you to follow the excellent example of the business man quoted above? This Company will co-operate with you.

Webster's Place in History.
While acting as the organ of the government in foreign affairs Webster showed that his powers as a diplomatist were scarcely inferior to his legal and oratorical endowments, but it is as secretary of state that he is least thought of now. His country proudly thinks of him as one whose brain and voice did more to inspire Americanism than any other man between Washington and Lincoln; as the greatest Federalist since Hamilton; as the finest exponent of the Constitution since Marshall.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Try this! Brush Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound through Your Hair, taking one strand at a time

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Gold Mining Now Prosaic.

There is scant romance in gold mining today, when natural science has taken the place of plows and chance. There is none at all in the recently published statement of a San Francisco, magnate who announced that his workmen and expert geologists had blocked out $6,000,000 worth of ore in one Arizona mountain in the last two years, and that excavation and the production of bullion would now begin.

THE GRANARY
A Column of News and Timely Topics for the Man Who Feeds the World

Chicago as a Grain Market

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

CHICAGO is the greatest grain market in the world. Normally more than four hundred millions of bushels of actual grain are sold through the Board of Trade. It is because of this immense volume of cash grain constantly pouring through this market that the greatest futures market in the world is located there.

It has been charged by those ignorant of circumstances that the Chicago speculative market sells nothing but "phantom grain." This statement is made in ignorance of the real conditions.

If there were no futures markets in the United States, the entire wheat trade and the method of selling flour would be on an altogether different basis. One important difference would be that the farmer and not the elevator company would carry a large part of the crop until late in the season. Whether the conditions that would prevail would be better or worse than those that obtain under the existing system, is not perhaps apparent, because the farm marketing plan has never been practically established.

It may be readily seen that instead of reducing speculation, in all probability it would increase it to some extent, because every speculator always wants to know the visible supply, and if farmers held the bulk of the grain, the speculator would know where and how it was being marketed, and this is the kind of information upon which the speculator acts.

A certain amount of speculation is necessary to maintain the present system of futures markets, for without speculation there would not at all times be a sufficient volume of trading to enable the elevator companies and millers, etc., to place their hedges.

Should the farmers carry the bulk of their crops into the terminal elevator companies, or could the farmers own the terminals, they would have to get under the burden of speculation to even a greater degree than anyone who buys futures for speculative purposes or who carries unbedged grain for an advance.

There is nothing mysterious about the board of trade, and the wisest of the farmers are advocating that the farmers' marketing scheme shall include the grain exchanges where the procedure has worked to a nicety for years and years.

World's Largest Spring.

What is the largest spring in the world? Florida has one which must be near the head of the list. This is called Wakulla spring. It is 400 feet across, is 80 feet deep and flows at the rate of 120,000 gallons of water every minute. It gives rise to a river 250 feet wide at its source. BRAKEMAN ZIMMER HAD CLOSE CALL

I Don't Believe I Would Be Here If It Wasn't For Tanlac", says Erie Man

Charles H. Zimmer, 11 West Tenth street, Erie, Pa., is still another veteran of the world war who has cause to be glad that he was induced to give Tanlac an honest trial. Mr. Zimmer is now a well known brakeman on the New York Central, running between Erie and Cleveland.

"Honestly, I don't believe I would be here now if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said Mr. Zimmer. Ever since I came home from overseas, after serving for thirteen months with the 38th Infantry, I have been in a terribly run-down condition. While in the trenches over there I was gassed and shell-shocked and it left my stomach and nervous system in an awful condition. My appetite was very poor, what little I forced down just would not agree or digest properly and I suffered about as much from this indigestion as I had from the gas and shells. I often thought my time had surely come. My liver and kidneys bothered me, and although I tried to work, my back hurt me so bad at times I could hardly get on and off the train. My nerves were so unstrung and I suffered so I seldom got any sleep and always felt tired and worn out.

"Well as nothing helped me, I was almost in despair and hardly knew what to do, when I finally got Tanlac. I have used three bottles now, and have improved so much the boys on the road hardly know me. My stomach is in first-class condition, and, in fact, all my troubles are entirely gone so that so, that I feel just fine. No matter how hard I work I always feel good and Tanlac gets all the credit for my good health."

GOOD THINGS FOR OCCASIONS.

The following are a few dishes which may be enjoyed for special days:

Tomato and Pineapple Salad.—Remove the skins from hot-house tomatoes; scoop out the centers, chill, fill with small cubes of fresh or canned pineapple; if the fresh is used, sweeten slightly. Set a spoonful of mayonnaise, mixed with one-quarter its bulk of whipped cream, above the fruit.

Chicken Custard.—Beat the yolks of four eggs until thick and stiff; add a little salt, and beat into one cupful of cream. Heat a cupful of strong, well-seasoned chicken stock in a saucepan; add the beaten eggs and cream and cook with care, stirring until the custard coats the spoon. Serve cold in small custard cups with a garnish of watercress.

Date Loaf Cake.—Cream one-half cupful of butter with one cupful of brown sugar; add two well-beaten eggs and two cupfuls of flour, sifted with one-half teaspoonful added alternately with one-half cupful of lukewarm water, in which one teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Lastly stir in one pound of dates, stoned and chopped, with one cupful of nuts, chopped, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract. Bake in a greased and floured pan in a slow oven.

Virginia Ham, Boiled.—Wash and scrub the ham thoroughly; let soak 30 hours in cold water to cover; remove from the water and rinse; place on the stove in a kettle of cold fresh water. Bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer for five hours. Remove from the kettle and take off the skin while hot.

THAN YOUR EYES NO STRONGER YOUR EYESIGHT

Your ability to read is no stronger than your eyesight. You may have the mental ability to read the deepest of literary works but if your eyesight is defective, what's the use of having the understanding? I'll fix your eyes so that you may read anything.

Missouri Philosopher.
"Most everybody remembers the kid in the old reading class who when he came to a word he didn't know gave a little grunt and went on. We've often thought he was smarter than he got credit for. It's not a bad policy to follow even in life. The chances are the kid wouldn't have known a darn thing about what the word meant if he had stopped and had it pronounced. Most of us do give a little grunt when we hit a snag in life, but not always because we don't know what it means.—Lamar Demerit."

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern, that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine, as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.
